Young Women's Christian Association and Women's Christian Association
May Unite.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 3.—An important proposition will be considered at the annual meeting of the Young Women's Christian Association, which opened here today. It is nothing less than the proposition of forming a merger with the Women's Christian Association. The Young Women's Christian Association was organized in 1894 as the result of a split in the mother organization, the Women's Christian Association. Since then the young association has met with remarkable success, while the mother organization remained practically at a standstill. It is expected that the merger of the two organizations will be of great benefit to both associations and will enable them to carry on their work with greater success than heretofore.

VARDAMAN MESSAGE HITS THE NEGROES

Mississippi Governor Declares Money of People Is Wasted in Giving School Facilities to Blacks.

Jackson, Miss., Jan. 3.—Gov. James K. Vardaman, in his annual message to the Mississippi legislature, which assembled Tuesday, again took a strong stand against spending public money for the education of the negro.

"As a race," he said, "the negro is deteriorating morally every day. Time has demonstrated that he is more criminal than a free man than as a slave, that he is increasing in criminality with fearful rapidity, being one-third more criminal in 1890 than he was in 1880."

"In the south, Mississippi particularly, I know he is growing worse every year. You can scarcely pick up a newspaper whose pages are not blackened with an account of an unmentionable crime committed by a negro brute and this crime I want to impress upon you is but the manifestation of the negro's aspiration for social equality, encouraged largely by the character of 'free education' in vogue, which the state is levying tribute upon the white people to maintain."

"It is your function to put a stop to the worse than wasting of $500,000 annually—money taken from the tolling white men and women of Mississippi—and devoted to the main purpose of trying to make something of the negro, which the great architect of the universe failed to provide for in the original plan of creation."

A. R. Nichols, one of the men in charge of the Bijou theatre, Kenosha, was held up at an early hour Tuesday morning on one of the side streets in the west part of the city. Nichols was searched by the hold-up men and they secured just 10 cents for their trouble. The men failed to secure a roll of bills which Nichols had in one of his coat pockets.

NEW ARMY LAW OF FRANCE IN FORCE

All Males Must Serve Hereafter in Ranks, But Term Is Reduced to Two Years.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Paris, Jan. 3.—The new Army Law, which was adopted by an overwhelming majority at the last session of the Chamber of Deputies, has gone into effect and it is believed, will give general satisfaction. The new law reduces the term of active service in the army from three to two years. On the other hand it renders every Frenchman liable, and abolishes all former exceptions concerning widows' sons and breadwinners. While such young men are serving in the army, those dependent upon them will be assisted by the state. Men, hitherto freed from military service owing to weakness will be enrolled in an auxiliary corps. It is maintained that this law will not decrease the numbers of the army on a peace footing, which is 500,000, but military experts are of the opinion that there will be a slight reduction of about 25,000, because one-half of the active army will be released annually instead of one-third as heretofore and that the abolition of exemption does not compensate for this.

The principle of the new law is all-around equality. In carrying out this principle the pupils of cadet schools must serve one year in the ranks before beginning their studies, while students in the various professions, heretofore serving only twelve months, must henceforth serve one year as ordinary soldiers and then, on passing examinations, become reserve officers during the second year of their service.

STATE NOTES

Two large barns on the farm of August Pasch in the town of Bristol, Kenosha county, were destroyed by fire as the result of the explosion of a lamp. The loss is placed at $3,000, with partial insurance.

The property of the Smith-Medberry company at Sheboygan, which has been bid in at trustee's sale by A. D. De Land, former president of the company, for $2,205.

J. W. Watson, a leading member of the Fond du Lac County bar and president of the Wisconsin Association of County Fair Secretaries, is suffering from a severe stroke of paralysis and is lying in a precarious condition at his home at Fond du Lac.

John Sogard of Pueblo, Colo., has been selected for principal of the Howell school of Racine, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of a former principal. Harry B. Inland of Chicago was chosen for the commercial department of the Racine High school.

An empty boat was discovered floating in the lake off Racine on Tuesday. It was a pair of oars and a coat. Late Monday afternoon an unknown man was seen to row the boat from the harbor, evidently with the intention of fishing. Belief prevails that the stranger either fell out of the boat and drowned or committed suicide.

Congressman H. A. Cooper, after spending a week in the First district has returned to Washington. Before going he is said to have announced that assistant postmaster of Racine would not be named until the recommendation of C. C. Gittings, as postmaster was confirmed by the president. There are now sixteen candidates.

INTRODUCE BILL TO OWN THE UTILITIES

New York Legislature Has Bill for Their Consideration with This in View.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]

Albany, Jan. 3.—The legislature, after Governor Higgins' message was read, received a number of bills introduced, among them being one by the Municipal Ownership league, providing for permission for New York city to buy, construct and operate gas, electric lighting and street railway plants to be paid for by selling public service certificates.

Governor Higgins' message says the problem of state regulation of insurance is how to cure, not to kill, and how to preserve, not to tear down. He told the legislators they were called upon to make radical revision of the law for the benefit of investors in life insurance and for the regulation and restraint of the companies. He says the policies should be of standard form to eradicate the abuses arising from ambiguity, complexity and incompleteness in the contract. He demands full publicity should be assured. Senator Brackett introduced a resolution calling upon Senator Depew to resign his office.

INDEPENDENTS AND UNIONS VS. TRUST

Small Glass Manufacturers Wish Help of Laborers in Fight on Big Competitor.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 3.—The federation of the Independent Window Glass Manufacturers, organized to make war upon the American Window Glass Co., which stands for the Glass Trust, met here today and it is expected that this meeting will bear far reaching and important results. The American Window Glass Company has recently made a big cut in the prices of window glass which was felt severely by the independent manufacturers, who felt that they could not compete with the trust without sacrificing every bit of their profit. The trust is in a much better position, because in the works of the American Window Glass Company labor saving machinery is used, while the independent concerns manufacture exclusively handblown glass, which requires a great many more skilled workmen. President A. L. Faulkner has sought to interest the Amalgamated Window Glass Workers of America in a movement to compel the Glass Trust either to give up the machines, or raise the prices of glass to an amount which would enable all manufacturers from making glass at a profit to themselves and at the same time pay their workmen adequate wages. It is expected that the meeting of the independent manufacturers called for today, will bring the matter to a point. It is believed that the Amalgamated Window Glass Workers of America will have a representative at the meeting and that the situation will be carefully discussed with a view of reaching some definite decision. It is stated that the independent manufacturers will be compelled to make a straight reduction in the wage scale, unless some pressure can be brought upon the trust to raise the price of window glass.

Senator-elect and Mrs. L. Follette left Madison, Wis., for Washington, where Mr. La Follette will be sworn in Thursday.

AUDITOR FLAYS PEORIA BOARD

School Trustees Are Taken To Task For Neglect of Duty Regarding School Funds

AS PUTTY IN DOUGHERTY'S HANDS

Banker's Frauds In Seven Years Amounted To Over A Million Dollars--The Board Was Careless.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]

Peoria, Ill., Jan. 3.—Scathing charges of neglect of duty are made against members of the board of education by the Everett Audit company of Chicago, whose report on the embezzlements of Newton C. Dougherty was read before the board Tuesday evening. Dougherty's frauds in seven years amounted to $541,408, according to the report, and the men whose business it was to check up his vouchers and accounts are charged by the Chicago auditor with supinely permitting themselves to be controlled and directed by the former superintendent. Many times, it is said, the trustees did this in direct opposition to the rules of the board.

The auditing committee of the school board is charged with failure to check up the pay rolls each month. The president of the board is declared not to have made even a casual examination of the scrip before signing and issuing it. The treasurer of the board is accused of gross carelessness.

"If the treasurer had fulfilled his other duties it would have been utterly impossible for this immense amount of 'rascality' to have been accomplished," is the way the Everett report reads.

During the last seven years B. Meals has been president of the board; during the last three years, lacking a few months, Mrs. Lucy B. Tyng, who died last July, was treasurer, and she was known to have been a blind follower of Dougherty's orders. For four years previous to Mrs. Tyng's incumbency R. J. Dooley was treasurer. O. J. Bailey has been chairman of the auditing committee for seven years past and A. Peter, chairman of the auditing committee for four years. H. O'Connor and J. H. Boyd held the office in the preceding three years, Mr. Boyd in 1899 and 1900.

These officers are accused of being so careless month after month that "it is useless for them to attempt to formulate or present any excuse that would relieve them from being censured." And also, "in plain English they have been grossly negligent of their duties and unfaithful to their trust."

As far as the school trustees are concerned, the audit company's investigators offer the opinion that they are legally a board of trustees and as such should be held responsible for frauds.

"Neither ignorance, carelessness or misplaced confidence would suffice to relieve them," was one conclusion. "Cashless Fictitious Scrip."

The report also shows that a great part of the shortage was directly manipulated by the cashing of fictitious scrip through the Peoria National bank, of which Dougherty was president. It declares that the bank is liable for every cent of this amount.

Continuing their inquiry into the facts, the experts faced this situation: "Have the members of the school board—not only this board, but the several boards from July 1, 1899—fulfilled their duties?"

The reply is as follows: "The only answer to this query is: None of the boards of school inspectors for the last seven years has fulfilled its duties properly and faithfully."

The net result of the investigation on this score is:

REFUSES TO COMPLY WITH HANLY'S DEMAND

Indiana's Secretary of State Declines to Quit Office at Behest of the Governor.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 3.—Following a brief consultation in the governor's office Tuesday between Governor Hanley, Secretary of State Daniel E. Storms and the latter's attorney, Mr. Storms made his first public statement since the demand made upon him by the governor for his resignation. Mr. Storms merely said he had refused to resign.

"Mr. Storms has refused to resign his office," said Governor Hanley. "He still owes the state certain money."

State Auditor Gieger informed Secretary Storms that he cannot draw his salary for the quarter just ended. According to the auditor Governor Hanley had instructed him to withhold the secretary's salary warrant, which would have called for $1,625.

Secretary Storms, with other state officials, made the regular quarterly settlement Tuesday, Mr. Storms paying into the state treasury $23,267.05 in Thursday.

The audit committee has discovered no act done by any school board member that it can prove was done with criminal knowledge or intent or that shows any member received pecuniary benefit, but everything, it has unearthed demonstrates shocking negligence, oversight and faithlessness to a public trust.

The question finally is: Is there sufficient ground for action by a grand jury?

Many Peoria citizens believe there is. The case may be reopened.

Board Members Are Flayed.

Plunging in every conceivable form of gentlemanly gambling ruined Dougherty, former superintendent of the Peoria schools and considered a pedagogic ideal as the successful schoolmaster, financier, the country over, the report says, and the men who heard it thought of the fallen idol and dictator, who now is convict 9510 in the penitentiary at Joliet.

A bunch of spanked truants could not have presented a more sheepish appearance than did the reputable citizens who compose the school board during the reading of the auditor's report. In no unmistakable words it alluded to each member and committee, who had been an unwilling accomplice of the convicted cashier.

John S. Stevens, chairman of the special auditing committee, with his voice trembling alternately with anger and mortification, read the closely typewritten pages. The other members, as their names were mentioned, with the committees on which they had served, slunk into their seats or sat rigidly erect, with eyes that saw neither to the right nor to the left.

The members of the board did not take kindly to the report. Neither will the stockholders of the Peoria National Bank. However, the members stifled their pride, and unanimously moved that it be made a part of the records of the board.

If the school board has been negligent in the past it certainly will be dilatory in the future. Immediately after the report was adopted, O. J. Bailey, president of the Dime Savings Bank, moved that an attorney be engaged to follow up the prosecutions recommended by Auditor Everett.

Former Judge David McCullough, federal referee in bankruptcy for this district, was decided upon. The report declares that recovery is possible and recommends prosecution against not only the bank for the forged scrip, but also the stock brokers, mining promoters and relatives who have received the $90,000. As to these latter there is no doubt in the mind of any member of the board that prosecution is feasible and should be started at once.

Judge McCullough will conduct the prosecution. He will decide the method of procedure against the out-of-town persons, whether to sue to recover stolen property or to recover money under the gambling act. He will give an opinion on the bank's liability and he will probably decide finally whether the school directors are individually liable for any of the shortages as the report suggests.

Few of Peoria's citizens were present to hear the story of how their school taxes had been disbursed. There was a full attendance of the board. Senator O. F. Berry, receiver of the Peoria National Bank, and seven citizens.

PLAN LEAGUES OF NEW YORK LETTER A WISCONSIN TEAMS

JANESVILLE IS INCLUDED IN THE PRESENT LISTS OF LEAGUE.

TROLLEY LEAGUE TALKED OF

Amos Rusie and Ed. McKean May Be Come Managers of State League Teams.

In the sporting section of the Record-Herald the following interesting item relative to the coming meeting of the Wisconsin baseball league magnates is to be found. As far as can be learned the local men expect to attend the gathering and since Mr. Powers last visit to the city early in November there has been little talk of Janesville having a place in the state league.

The second annual meeting of the Wisconsin Association of Professional Baseball Clubs will be held at 170 Madison street at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, Jan. 9, when officers will be elected. The league will be increased to eight clubs this year, and two new towns will be picked from applications of Eau Claire, Madison, Janesville, Fond du Lac and Appleton.

In the Milwaukee Sentinel comes the announcement that Amos Rusie, the one-time famous pitcher of the New York club, and Ed. McKean, the star second baseman of the Cincinnati team, have been offered the management of the Appleton and Fond du Lac clubs. Both of those old time stars are under contract to the Springfield, O. club of the Central league and a deal has been framed up between Jack Hendricks, the manager of that team, and John T. Powers, president of the Wisconsin league, whereby the two former National leaguers will be transferred to Powers' organization. The news has not been confirmed by Mr. Powers, as he is waiting for developments to mature in the two towns in which he expects to place Rusie and McKean as the managerial heads.

Not Mentioned. In the same account Janesville is not mentioned as a possible member. It says with the addition of Appleton and Fond du Lac it would make the eastern end of the organization compact and an increased rivalry throughout the league. With the six remaining clubs of last year the addition of Fond du Lac and Appleton would make an eight-club circuit, but it has been rumored that some of the northern towns are anxious to have Beloit and Janesville replaced either by Winona, Minn., or Madison and Eau Claire, and it is said they are going to the next meeting with the intention of favoring that suggestion and will try to induce President Powers to go after Eau Claire and Madison.

The Trolley League. A Bloomington dispatch states that plans are now being formed to have a Trolley League of Illinois and Wisconsin cities so located on trolley lines that they can be easily reached. The dispatch says: "The prospects are bright for a central Illinois trolley baseball league for 1906. An agitation has commenced for an organization to include the cities that are connected by the trolley interurbans in order to insure small mileage and traveling expenses, and yet with a large patronage. A tentative circle has been proposed, consisting of Aurora, Beloit, Belvidere, Rockford, Freeport, Joliet, and possibly Ottawa, La Salle, or Janesville."

Calendars for 1906. The printing department of the Gazette has some splendid lines of calendars on hand for business men who desire to use them for their customers. These sample lots will be sold at considerably less than the original prices to clean up.

BIG GATHERING IN HONOR OF THIRTY-SECOND WEDDING. Newark, Jan. 1.—Newark was the scene of a great deal of social gaiety last Wednesday. The event being in honor of Mr. and Mrs. H. Hurley's thirty-second wedding anniversary. Friends and relatives, from Avon, Newark, Beloit and Orford to the number of fifteen gathered together at the Newark Woodman hall. At one o'clock the guests were seated to a sumptuous dinner after which a short and very interesting program was rendered by local talent. The guests presented Mr. and Mrs. Hurley with a purse showing towards them the esteem in which they were held and wishing them many returns of such. Much credit is due to the skill of R. N. A. of Newark and Mrs. Tim Barnum of Orford for the successful manner in which it was managed.

Mrs. T. Kelly and Mrs. R. Cox went to Cooksville today to visit the former's sister, Mrs. E. Stoneburner. Many of the young folks of Newark watched the old year out and the New Year in. JUMBLE OF THINGS Material and Not-Material Are Mixed Together in the Following Letter.

New York, Jan. 3.—There is great distress on Riverside avenue and the hearts of the people of New York city go out to Mrs. Isaac G. Rice, who has made public the agony suffered by the residents on that slightly avenue. They have the most beautiful river on the planet to look upon, and there is a wide prospect on beyond the lordly stream that carries so much freight and so many passengers into the city or the sea. But, also the great river is infested by swarms of boats of greater or less degree, and each one has a whistle and their whistle is blown many times in the course of a day and a night. And the hearing of these whistles has almost, she says, made Mrs. Rice crazy, and her neighbors also fear aberration of their intellects. The root of these whistles goes on all through the night and is so tantalizing at times that Mrs. Rice has to just sit down and count them. Three thousand toots in a night is a common record, while on one night 7,000 toots were counted. It is quite probable that the counter got tired and sleepy at times, and missed some toots, possibly some hundreds of them, as there is a suddenness about a toot that makes it very difficult to catch at it. All the hospitals in the neighborhood are in the fight with Mrs. Rice, and backed up Mrs. Rice when she waited upon Police Commissioner McAdoo and asked him to remedy the matter. What to do, the poor man was at a loss to say. A whistle is a very useful thing in its way, and frequently prevents a collision, and with it pilots tell each other which side to steer without having to wait until they get along side of each other and are able to pass in such other words of mouth. It is necessary, of course, for Riverside people to sleep at times and perhaps if they did not make themselves so exceedingly wide-awake on the tooting question they might be able to make a good sound nap or two occasionally. Some 12,479 persons are going to lay the matter before the law department of the Custom-house and pray the body to give them sound refreshing slumbers.

Not so far from Riverside drive a good man, who has done some good in his day and generation, is sleeping to beat the band every night. The whistles may toot and toot, but they do not disturb Andrew Carnegie. He just retires at a reasonable hour and drops into slumber, dreaming, perhaps of establishing a few more libraries or putting aside a few more millions for some new benevolent enterprise. And he sleeps on, Andrew Carnegie does, the canny Scot, until morning, and then he has his awakening done by music from a sweet toned organ played by an expert. The morning of the organ was supplemented with a full choir of sweet voices and those melodies of the slumbering millionaire were waked open in just no time at all. And Mr. Carnegie just lies still and listens. While Mrs. Rice on Riverside drive would plug her ears, and Mrs. Carnegie opens all the pores of his soul and takes in the entrance strains until he gets thoroughly awake and tuned up for the day. And Andrew Carnegie awake is a steam engine of many thousands of horse power.

Mr. August Belmont has kindly taken charge of all our street car lines from the cars that scurry along the highways to those that swoosh through the subway, not forgetting those which trot the upper air. That is handy. If one wants to know anything about a car or car line, all he has to do is to go down to see Mr. Belmont, or if he has a complaint to make all he has to do is to pour into the ready ear of Mr. Belmont which will work fine hours a day, no matter what the result of the printers' strike. And there is Mr. Ryan, who no sooner bobbed up in insurance circles than he disappears from the subway, leaving Mr. Belmont to face a frowning world as mad as a hornet over being chissled out of its possessions. And yet there are some people in this town who think Mr. Ryan has not disappeared from the car properties, but is more in them than ever, and that he will shovel millions out of the merger.

He will assist Mr. Belmont in building all the subways that are to follow, and will take his little dividends. Now, why isn't this nice and considerate in these two gentlemen? Why do people bother them for not letting them worry and fret over these pesky holes in the ground while these gentlemen will build them and the public need not worry their heads about the matter until the subway is put on exhibition 'spick, span, gleaming, glistening in all the brilliance of its cotta' finishing and the public not even required to scour the railings? The old fire is in the old flint alter all. Money rates no sooner began to soar than Russell Sage dusted himself off, and appeared in Wall street once more after many months' absence, apparently as alive as ever and certainly capable of taking in the from 20 to 125 Sage's average being 90 to 95. What a luxurious feeling to have that profit passing through his hands once again, those hands so shriveled that one might well have supposed they never could have handled cash again? Seventy thousand dollars is said to have been the profit that Sage derived from a little money works. They jump salt into moribund arteries, and the patient takes a breath or two more of life. But Mr. Sage has suffered no hypodermic injection. He has simply suffered money-making under high pressure, and out he comes to enjoy the making of a few more millions before he leaves the scene for good. Why conlunt Mr. Sage and his kindred soul—Mrs. Hedy Green—he is induced to give a dialogue describing the delights of taking in money and keeping it. What a thrill! "You must," course through their veins when they find the dollars coming in and staying in. We have an idea that Sage experiences more joy in taking in the cash while Mrs. Green delights more in packing it away. We get an insight into the character when we read that of all the creatures on this earth she has chosen a carrier to endow for life. A tall, lanky motorman is altogether the best. Indeed, it is clear that they should be made that way. Motorman Welch, for instance, is tall and lanky, and as he is cruising along with his trolley car he saw a boy sitting on the track sucking a stick of candy. The power was turned off instantly and the brake applied toward the boy and he was sure to be crushed, and all that then it was that Welch's lank legs came in play. Clinging with them, bent like a jack-knife, blade to clung, with them to the front board and letting himself down head first, he reached out his long arms, and with his ready hands he scooped that candy sucking boy just as easy. What would a short fat motorman have done in such a case. And the little boy went on sucking his candy and Welch nearly hugged him to death in his joy at not having crushed him to a horrible death. Clearly the home-made tender motorman has qualities that makes him the premier of his profession.

We at last have assurance that we will have a mayor, not as a hold-over but as one declared elected by the board of canvassers. This is much better, for although Mr. Hearst may push out Mr. McCellan by his warlike proceedings lately, it is much better to know, meanwhile, that the man in office is there by the decision of the body properly qualified to judge and declare the result of the election. To have the form of law followed, and the decision made in accordance therewith, removes the city from disputes that might arise in case it would profit anyone to question the authority of the municipal head. In quo warranto proceedings another authoritative decision will be reached and whether Mr. McCellan goes out or stays in he will do so according to law. It will be a great relief to Mr. Hearst if the judges in the quo warranto proceedings tell Mr. McCellan quickly to stay. "OLD TIMER."

ENTERTAINED EMPLOYEES OF JANESVILLE STEAM LAUNDRY

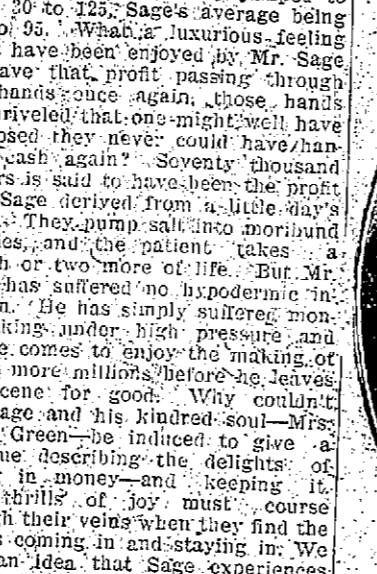

Charles Sehaler Was Host at Pleasant Gathering on New Year's Day.

Employees of the Janesville Steam Laundry were entertained at an elaborate dinner at the home of Charles Sehaler on New Year's Day. The afternoon was devoted to games, and all of the participants enjoyed a delightful time. Among those present were Mrs. Pickering, Helen Bates, Ida Krueger, Kitty Ryan, Clara Lemke, Nellie Ryan, Ruby Graves, Minnie Kapka, Ruby Wilcox, Bertha Hogan, Dora McCooper, Lydia Pfend, Mrs. Heine, Linda Heine, Etta Minick, Frank Quinn, Will Pickering, and Frank McKean.

Mrs. Austin's famous Pancake dinner, made from the three great stalks of life: wheat, corn and rice.

which trot the upper air. That is handy. If one wants to know anything about a car or car line, all he has to do is to go down to see Mr. Belmont, or if he has a complaint to make all he has to do is to pour into the ready ear of Mr. Belmont which will work fine hours a day, no matter what the result of the printers' strike. And there is Mr. Ryan, who no sooner bobbed up in insurance circles than he disappears from the subway, leaving Mr. Belmont to face a frowning world as mad as a hornet over being chissled out of its possessions. And yet there are some people in this town who think Mr. Ryan has not disappeared from the car properties, but is more in them than ever, and that he will shovel millions out of the merger.

He will assist Mr. Belmont in building all the subways that are to follow, and will take his little dividends. Now, why isn't this nice and considerate in these two gentlemen? Why do people bother them for not letting them worry and fret over these pesky holes in the ground while these gentlemen will build them and the public need not worry their heads about the matter until the subway is put on exhibition 'spick, span, gleaming, glistening in all the brilliance of its cotta' finishing and the public not even required to scour the railings? The old fire is in the old flint alter all. Money rates no sooner began to soar than Russell Sage dusted himself off, and appeared in Wall street once more after many months' absence, apparently as alive as ever and certainly capable of taking in the from 20 to 125 Sage's average being 90 to 95. What a luxurious feeling to have that profit passing through his hands once again, those hands so shriveled that one might well have supposed they never could have handled cash again? Seventy thousand dollars is said to have been the profit that Sage derived from a little money works. They jump salt into moribund arteries, and the patient takes a breath or two more of life. But Mr. Sage has suffered no hypodermic injection. He has simply suffered money-making under high pressure, and out he comes to enjoy the making of a few more millions before he leaves the scene for good. Why conlunt Mr. Sage and his kindred soul—Mrs. Hedy Green—he is induced to give a dialogue describing the delights of taking in money and keeping it. What a thrill! "You must," course through their veins when they find the dollars coming in and staying in. We have an idea that Sage experiences more joy in taking in the cash while Mrs. Green delights more in packing it away. We get an insight into the character when we read that of all the creatures on this earth she has chosen a carrier to endow for life. A tall, lanky motorman is altogether the best. From that time until the present, during a period of sixty-five years, Mr. Leonard has taken a like interest in the educational work of Rock county and has lived to see one of the most cultured and generally educated communities in the state built upon the foundation which he laid so many years ago. Mr. Leonard has been a benediction to many who have enjoyed his benevolence, given personally, and unstintingly, for the sole purpose of relieving distress, and because he recognized a duty. Enjoying the esteem and confidence of his townsmen, the oldest resident of the city still greets his friends daily upon the street and Saturday entertained a number of the older boys at a birthday dinner in his home.

VETERAN EVANSVILLE RESIDENT WHO TAUGHT FIRST SCHOOL.

CELEBRATED HIS BIRTHDAY

Is Still Hale and Hearty and Able to Be About the Streets of His Home City.

Mr. Levi Leonard, of Evansville, Rock county, on Saturday celebrated his ninetieth birthday. Mr. Leonard was born in Broome county, N. Y., and his grandfather, Capt. Joseph Leonard, was the earliest settler of Broome county, and his father was the first white child born in that county. At the age of 25 years Levi left the home of his father to seek his fortune in the far west, coming to Wisconsin and settling in Rock county in 1840. The journey from Chicago to Pope's Ferry or Janesville was made on foot, following the old stage route from Chicago to Madison. Arriving in the vicinity of the present city of Evansville, Mr. Leonard engaged at $14 per month to work for a farmer, with whom he remained three years. During the winter months he taught school, being master of the first school ever taught in Evansville. There were

MILTON JUNCTION PEOPLE CELEBRATE A GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Clarke Surprised Monday Evening on Fiftieth Anniversary of Their Marriage.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Milton Junction, January 2.—Monday evening our esteemed citizen and wife, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Clarke were invited to go up to the P. F. hall to attend a social. Imagine their surprise and it was a surprise when they found themselves at the center of the gathering which was to mark the fiftieth anniversary of their wedded journey. Eld. Geo. Lewis invited them to seats in two handsome willow rockers and then in a pleasing manner told them why they and the crowd were there. He presented to them a gold headed cane, a gold headed umbrella, some gold bowed spectacles and a shining gold coin. A short program was then given, music by a quartet composed of Messrs Seegar, Loofters, Coon and Livingston, selected reading by Mrs. Allie Cole and an original reading by Mrs. Jennie Larkins, a niece of the groom, entitled, "Greeting." Eld. North then addressed the company a short time, very wisely proving the truth of the adage that those who would have friends must show themselves friendly. In closing all were treated to ice cream and wafers. Everything was nicely planned and those who had it in charge are to be congratulated for the pleasant evening spent.

Students' Watch Party. A great time the college boys had Sunday night when they had to find where the girls had congregated to watch the old year out and the new year in. The hunt did not last as long as it might, however, for some one whispered that they had taken themselves to a lively town. They were found at the pleasant home of Ray Coon and a company of fifty jolly boys and girls declared that midnight came a little too soon.

Chicken Hawk Party. Not so, follows Geo. Reichel's experience when upon returning to his home he found a chicken hawk had slaughtered twelve of his prize fowls. He had them shut up in a building, but the hawk found a way in and was making things lively when Reichel appeared upon the scene with a club which soon finished the hawk.

= FORTY YEARS AGO =

Janesville Daily Gazette, Wednesday, January 3, 1906. Social—The social that was postponed last week on account of the weather, is to come off at McKey's hall next Friday evening. Those who carry a light, fantastic toe will have a chance to shake it on that occasion.

A New Sheriff—Mr. Thomas Earle, the efficient and popular sheriff of this county, having resigned, the governor has appointed Mr. A. O. Whitcomb of Beloit to fill the vacancy. Mr. Whitcomb has been deputy under Sheriff Earle, and will doubtless make an excellent officer.

Lecture of Rev. Mr. Parnley—The lecture of Rev. Mr. Parnley at the Tabernacle last evening, was one of the thrilling interest. The only regret of those who heard it, is that any of our citizens should have failed of such a treat. Perhaps for the benefit of others, it will be repeated at some future time.

Mr. Stephen Hammond of Clinton writes: I gathered an ear of corn in cornfield, of the white dent variety, that shelled 1,441 grains, having twenty rows and 52 grains in a row and one on the tip of the ear that stood alone, beating the big ear of Virginia 33 grains. There were also a great many ears that would shell from 900 to 1,000 grains each.

Buried in a Well—This morning a few minutes after nine o'clock, Patrick Heffern, well known in this city and vicinity as a well-digger, was buried alive in a well 32 feet deep on the premises of Mr. James Madden, on South Second street. At the time of the accident the unfortunate man was engaged in curbing the well in question, and had progressed some twelve feet with the work. The man who was employed with him in lowering brick with a windlass, says the bucket with a load of brick was some five or ten feet above the head of Heffern when the curbing gave way and he heard him make the exclamation: Oh! when falling dirt shut out all sight and sound of the buried man. From the appearance of the well above, it would seem that the entire well did not cave in, but only a portion of it. A few feet from the top. There is a bare possibility that Heffern may be alive, but the chances are all against him, of course. It will take several hours of vigorous work to reach the unfortunate man.

Doings In The World Of Sport

Career of Patsy Donovan, Who Has Been Signed to Manage Brooklyn Nationals—Ed Corrigan, Dominant Figure of Western Turf.

Very few men in baseball today have had a wider experience in the game than Patsy Donovan, the man Brooklyn fans will look to next season to raise their team from the cellar champion ship.

Donovan has been a professional ball player for twenty years, beginning with the team of Lawrence, Mass., his native town. In 1890, the year of the

PATSY DONOVAN.

Brotherhood revolt, Donovan made his debut in fast company, playing with Boston and Brooklyn in the National league. In 1891 he played in the American association. In 1892 he was with Washington in the National league. Donovan's managerial experience began in 1897, when he succeeded Connie Mack as manager of the Pittsburg club. He handled the Pirates for three years. He did not bag a pennant, but landed the team in a good position each year.

In 1900, the St. Louis National league club purchased Donovan's release from Pittsburg. In 1901 he was appointed manager and led the Cardinals until the end of 1903. Financial difficulties with the owners of the club resulted in Donovan being released without being paid in full.

He accepted the management of the Washington Senators in 1904, but was dropped at the end of the season. Donovan did not play ball last year.

Edward Corrigan, known as the "Master of Hawthorne," at present is the dominant figure in turf circles in the west. He smashed the power of the Western Jockey club, the controlling racing association for years in that section of the country, by organizing the American Racing club.

Corrigan began the fight against the power of his old turf enemy, John Condon, the leader of the Western Jockey club, by building a new track in New Orleans last winter in opposition to the old Fair Grounds course. When he failed to secure recognition for his club and was refused dates for a meeting he started an attack on the Western Jockey club.

At the present time the turf war is being fought out at New Orleans. Neither side will give in. Each is losing money at the rate of nearly $1,000 a day. The Fair Grounds people have a war fund of $500,000 and the Corrigan forces $300,000. Each side declares it will not stop until the rival track has been forced out of business.

GREAT BARGAIN FOR THE RIGHT MAN

A Fine, Large Stock and Dairy Farm in Webster County, Missouri.

150 miles south of St. Louis, where the winter season for feeding stock never exceeds eight weeks, and as a rule about six weeks is the limit of anything that would be called cold weather in Wisconsin. Climate and water could not be better. A great fruit and poultry country. In fact anything can be produced there that can be anywhere. Help is cheap and the average price per month for good men is from $16 to $18 per month with board, and $1.00 to $1.25 per day without board. The great point in the argument is, you can get just as much for your produce there as you can here, at about two-thirds of the cost of same to produce, or less. Good churches and schools, also good society, and as a rule honest people.

This farm is located 8 miles from a good town on the Frisco R. R., between St. Louis and Springfield, Mo., and there is a store and postoffice about one mile from the farm. This property is owned by a man of 84 years of age, who wants to sell and move to town—the reason for selling. The farm consists of 600 acres; 400 in cultivation, 200 in pasture and timber. Two small spring creeks cross the land, making fine water for stock. The land is some rolling, but not hilly. The buildings are: one 6-room house with cellar and summer kitchen of stone 18x20; 4 tenant houses; 1 barn 60x70 for horses and mules; 1 new barn 114x60 with cement floors, stalls for 84 head of stock; stone granary and hen house 16x25; stone wood house 18x20; 1 pair of 4 ton scales. Personal property, 1 pair of mules worth $400; 2 pair of horses worth $500; 180 head of cattle—84 of these are fine milk cows—balance young stock of all kinds; 1 manure spreader, 2 cultivators—new, 2 wagons, 1 survey, 1 disk harrow, 1 smoothing harrow, 1 6-horse power gasoline engine, 1 milk separator—capacity 850 lbs. per hour, 1 80-gallon churn with shafting, 2 mowers, 1 rake, 1 4-foot grindstone, 1 blacksmith forge and anvil, 1 Duplex corn and cob mill for feed grinding. All of the above personal property goes with farm at $40 per acre. If sold soon, or you can buy the farm without stock and tools, at a price less the value of stock and tools.

I can also sell you smaller farms, of any size, if wanted. I have a nice 373-acre farm at $22.50 per acre. Prices range on improved farms all the way from $15 to $60 per acre for small farms. About $20 to $30 buys a good place. Let me hear from you. Terms—one-half cash, balance time. Address

On a pinch a beer wagon does make a good patrol wagon.

TRADE WITH ENGLAND.

Trade of the United States with the United Kingdom in the fiscal year 1905 aggregated practically 700 million dollars and formed more than one-fourth of our total foreign commerce. Figures just presented by the Department of Commerce and Labor through its Bureau of Statistics show that the exports from the United States to the United Kingdom in 1905 aggregated 522 million dollars out of a total of 1,518 millions, and thus formed 34 per cent, or practically one-third of our total exports; imports from the United Kingdom aggregated 176 millions, out of a total importations of 1,117 millions, and thus formed about 16 per cent, or practically one-sixth of our total imports.

On both the import and export sides of the account our trade with the United Kingdom is larger than with any other country. The imports from that country, as already indicated, were 176 millions, against 113 millions from Germany, 100 millions from Brazil, 90 millions from France, 86 millions from Cuba, 62 millions from Canada, 52 millions from Japan, and 46 millions from Mexico. The exports to the United Kingdom were 522 millions, against 194 millions to Germany, 141 millions to Canada, 76 millions to France, 73 millions to Netherlands, 53 millions to China, 52 millions to Japan, and 46 millions to Mexico.

Comparing conditions of our trade with the United Kingdom in 1905 with those of 1895, the imports from that country have grown from 159 million dollars in 1895 to 176 millions in 1904, an increase of 17 millions, or a little over 10 per cent, while exports to that country have grown from 387 millions in 1895 to 522 millions in 1905, an increase of 135 millions, or about 35 per cent.

The principal articles which form our enormous trade with the United Kingdom are, chiefly, manufacturers' materials and manufacturers' on the import side, and foodstuffs, manufacturers' materials and manufactures on the export side. While the United Kingdom is not a large producer of raw material for use in manufacturing, at least in excess of her own requirements, she exports considerable quantities of material of this character drawn from other parts of the world, especially from her colonies. Of our imports of raw wool, which in 1905 amounted to 46 million dollars, about 17 millions was drawn from the United Kingdom; of our imports of pig tin, which in 1905 amounted to 23 million dollars, about 12 millions was drawn from the United Kingdom; of hides and skins our imports from the United Kingdom in 1905 were nearly 7 million dollars in value; of india rubber a little more than 7 millions; of jute, flax, and hemp nearly 2 million dollars; of raw cotton, chiefly Egyptian, nearly a million dollars; of cabinet woods practically a million dollars, while diamonds and other precious stones imported from that country amounted to 9 million dollars.

Among the importations of foodstuffs about 1½ million dollars' worth of tea was from the United Kingdom, about a half million dollars' worth of coffee, and one-third of a million dollars' worth of cocoa. Of finished manufactures, which form a large share of the imports from Great Britain, there do any other class, the most important are manufactures of cotton, manufactures of fibers, manufactures of iron and steel, and manufactures of wool.

Even of cotton cloths, this cotton producing and manufacturing imported in the fiscal year 1905 more than 6 million dollars' worth from the United Kingdom, which presumably bought from the United States practically all of the cotton contained therein, and after transforming it into manufactures sent the finished product back to us, while of other classes of cotton manufactures, such as laces, edgings, embroideries, threads, etc., the total imports from the United Kingdom are even greater than those of cotton cloth alone, being 8 million dollars in value. Of fiber manufactures, of which our imports last year amounted to 46 million dollars, fully one-half was drawn from the United Kingdom, including 11 million dollars of linen cloths, 4 million dollars' worth of burlap woven from jute yarn produced in India, and 2 million dollars' worth of linen handkerchiefs.

The next largest group of manufactured articles drawn from the United Kingdom is composed of various products of iron and steel, a large proportion being in a partially manufactured form for further use in manufacturing, especially pig-iron, 2½ million dollars; ingots, blooms, and bars, 1½ million dollars; wire and wire rods, over a half million dollars, and sheet iron or steel, while tin plates amounted to 4½ million dollars in 1905 against 12 million dollars in 1895. Woolen goods are next in importance in the list of manufactures imported from the United Kingdom, and included in 1905 over 2½ million dollars' worth of cloths, and 5-13 million dollars' worth of materials designated as "women's and children's dress goods," while other miscellaneous manufactures of wool brought the amount from the United Kingdom up to fully one-half of our total imports of woolen goods, which last year aggregated about 18 million dollars.

Foodstuffs, manufacturers' materials and manufactures form the principal item in the grand total of 523 million dollars' worth of merchandise exported from the United States to the United Kingdom in 1905. Under the head of foodstuffs are included wheat, flour, corn, oats, meats, butter, cheese, cattle, sheep, canned salmon, and fruits. Under the head of manufacturers' materials, by far the most important item is cotton, and to this should be added leather, tobacco, lumber, and timber. Under the classification manufactures, the most important items of export to the United Kingdom are copper, 14 million dollars' worth; mineral oil, 15 millions; leather and manufactures thereof, 15 millions; and various manufactures of iron and steel amounting to over 21 million dollars. The principal foodstuffs sent to the United Kingdom during the year were cattle valued at nearly 27 million dollars; flour, 11½ millions; wheat, 3½ millions; corn, nearly 18 millions; fruits, 6½ millions; fresh beef, 22 millions; canned beef, 4 millions; bacon, 21 millions; hams, 19½ millions; pork, 7 millions; lard, 17½ millions; and butter and cheese, a little less than 1 million dollars each. Of manufacturers' materials sent to that country during the year, cotton is, as already indicated, by far the largest item, amounting to 176 million dollars in value, while leather and baccos amounted to 9½ million dollars, lumber 5½ millions, and timber nearly 4 millions.

Of manufactures sent to the United Kingdom during the year, copper amounted to over 14 million dollars; upper leather for use in manufacturing boots and shoes, 11 millions; sole leather, 4½ millions; boots and shoes, about 2 millions; mineral oil, 14 millions; instruments and apparatus for scientific purposes, including electrical appliances, 2-3 millions; builders' hardware, including locks, hinges, tools, and saws, over 2 millions; electrical machinery, over 1 million dollars; sewing machines, 1½ million dollars; typewriters, 1½ million dollars; cabs, carriages, and other vehicles, about 2 million dollars; agricultural implements, over 1 million dollars; paper, 2½ million dollars; and paraffin, 4½ million dollars, while of articles not classified by the Bureau of Statistics as foodstuffs, manufacturers' materials, or manufactures, there were sent to the United Kingdom 3½ million dollars' worth of oil.

cake, nearly 4 millions of turpentine, nearly 2 millions of rosin, and about 1 million dollars' worth of cottonseed oil.

The above figures relate solely to the trade of the United States with the United Kingdom, which term includes England, Scotland, and Ireland. The exports of the United States to all British territory in 1905 amounted to 740 million dollars, and formed 48.7 per cent of our total exports, and the imports from all British territory amounted to 321 million dollars and formed 28.7 per cent of our total imports. The figures of the United Kingdom show that imports from the United States in 1904 formed 21.6 per cent of her total imports and that exports to the United States formed 16.6 per cent of her total exports. The United Kingdom imports twice as much merchandise from the United States as from any other country of the world and as much as from all her colonies combined, but her exports to India, and in some years to Germany, are larger than those to the United States. Of the total imports of the United Kingdom from all parts of the world, 42 per cent is foodstuffs, 32 per cent raw materials for use in manufacturing, and 25 per cent manufactures. Of her total exports of domestic products to all parts of the world 82 per cent is manufactures.

Umbrella With a History.

The state of California was presented with an interesting historical relic the other afternoon when Mrs. S. J. Hensley gave J. A. Filcher and Frank Wiggins an umbrella which had sheltered the admission papers of the state in their trip from Washington to San Francisco, says the Portland Oregonian. On the trip across the Chagres river on the isthmus of Panama it rained for seven days, and during all this time the papers were sheltered by Miss Crosby under the umbrella given to the state as a historical relic. Miss Crosby afterward became the wife of Major S. J. Hensley of Sutter's fort and all during the following years has cherished the umbrella as a memento of the trip.

A New Year Forecast.

Mme. de Thelves, the poet Persian prophetess, who is no Mother Shipton, but a cultured woman of the world and a charming talker and used to be a great friend of Dumas fils, recently issued her Almanac for 1906, says a Paris correspondent of the London World. The preface runs: "I called 1904 a drag year, 1905 a scarlet year, 1906 will be a mad and bad year." She does not say whether this will apply to the weather.

Girl's $8,000 Souvenir.

Miss Agnes Sauder, a poor mill girl of Lewiston, Me., recently learned for the first time, says the New York Tribune, that a piece of script which was given to her as a souvenir four years ago by a United States naval officer, whom she does not know is a Portuguese bank note, the face value of which is $5,000 and which when it matures in November, 1906, will be worth $8,000.

KICKERS' KOLUM

Where Are the Street-Signs? Editor Kickers' Kolum: Months and months ago there arose, in the city council an alderman with an idea that it would be helpful to have a few street signs here and there just to let people know that the thoroughfares in this city are not nameless and that there is a way to locate a friend without recourse to the map and juggling with the law of probabilities in house numbers. The alderman made a motion which was carried and got some bids. Then the whole matter was dismissed, and we have heard no more of it. Let's have those signs. They're needed.

NEWCOMER

Wants New Dance Music. Editor Kickers' Kolum: This suggestion is made in good faith, though it may not be taken with good grace, why can't we have some new music in appreciable quantities from our orchestras? Of course, everybody is supposed to like the old songs and the old tunes, but we are more than surfeited with them both at the grand ball and the informal hop. "Why, I used to dance to that piece of music when I was learning the two-step." "Say, did Noah compose that piece or was it Methuselah?"—Ha, a new one and it's two years old or I'm one of the ten original lyres!—These are some of the comments passed and the musicians really ought to know it because they have seemed unconscious of it for a long time.

LOST CHORD.

A Suggestion. I would suggest the following New Year's resolution: Resolved that I will buy goods made in Janesville whenever it is possible to do so, and that I will purchase everything obtainable here from our home retailers, rather than from mail order houses or from department houses and stores in other cities, and that I will use my influence to induce my neighbors and friends to do the same.

LOYAL CITIZEN.

Buy It at Home. To the Public: There are thousands of dollars of capital invested in the stocks of the different Janesville industries. To keep this money invested so as to pay a reasonable rate of interest it is necessary to sell the commodities. It should be the sole idea of every person who buys goods of any description to purchase them at home if possible. This applies to the wives of persons in business themselves, as well as of professional people. Chicago is too easy to reach and bargains look like bargains in the columns of the city papers. It is so easy to shop down there for a day and spend the money your husband earns from other Janesville industries. Buy it at home. Save the money for Janesville and help promote the home industries.

A PURCHASER.

Same Old Question. Editor: Gazette: Will you inform us why the city library is not opened? Is it to be closed all winter? Is the story of extensive repairs true or not?

Is a Detriment.

To the Library Board: The closing of the public library is a detriment to the public. If there is a good reason for its being closed and kept closed why not make it public?

SIMPLY A GRUB.

Need a Light. To the Aldermen: The need of an electric light at the corner of Main St. and Park place is apparent to all who have to pass this dark corner on wet nights. The sidewalks along the park are in such a poor condition that the water stands in pools, and the Egyptian darkness that surrounds this main thoroughfare is such that into the puddles one goes before knowing where he or she is. The light on Park street just below does not light this corner and is on a street but little used. If nothing better could be done, why not move that up a block?

SOUTH MAIN STREET.

Clean Your Walks. To the Editor: If people would realize that there is a city ordinance which compels them to keep their sidewalks clean of all snow and ice the city would be saved much useless labor, and the pedestrians lots of annoyance. This keeping the walks clean of all snow and ice means the keeping of the feet dry and the owners of the feet healthy. Nothing will bring on severe colds so quickly as wet feet.

CHURCH FOR ALL CREEDS.

St. Louis Physician to Establish and Maintain Unique Society.

A church where men and women of all creeds and faiths may gather and worship God in the simplest form imaginable, where there will be no preaching and no sermons, no choir, no ritual, no ceremony and no collection plate, where all the pews will be free and only automatic music from electrically operated chimes and pipe organ will be heard—such is the church that Dr. August Schmidt, a German physician, will erect and maintain at his own expense in South St. Louis, says a dispatch from that city.

Dr. Schmidt's conviction of what constitutes Christianity was acquired after two years of mental and spiritual torment, during which he was pursued and tormented ceaselessly by a "voice" urging on him countless sins and crimes, and promising him immunity from punishment or suffering as a consequence. Mightily he strove against this "voice," praying and reading his Bible till finally, he says, he was made to understand that the Bible was inspired by both God and the devil, the latter being responsible for the parts in con-tradition to the divine messages. The devil exercises hypnotic influence over the souls of sinners, and in many cases they are unable to resist his temptations and are for that reason absolved by God from all responsibility for their deeds, the penalty of which must be paid by Satan himself. Deliberate sin, Dr. Schmidt says, are compensated for in this life; God's will is that all men should live, but the devil would have all men die. After death the souls of the entirely wicked are dissolved in the soul of Satan, thereby increasing his power and his punishment. All churches are good and all creeds are good, says Dr. Schmidt, but they differ in ability to conduct a positive and aggressive warfare against the fiend. The worship of God is a positive Christianity. Christians should be warriors fighting always against the evil one.

HUMAN "STEAM:" KEEPING IT UP

This is the Secret of That Seemingly Tireless Energy Possessed by Some People.

There is another kind of steam than that in which the boy James Watt, watching his mother's teakettle, first saw the great possibilities that long since have become realities.

This other kind of steam is human "steam." Some people call this human "steam" by other names. They call it "push," sometimes, or "hustle," or "get-up," or "life." Well, it's all of these, but after all it's just "steam." It's the power to do things—a seemingly tireless power which some people possess.

If your power is lagging it's possibly because you are neglecting your TEETH, using their use. No man or woman can keep going long if the teeth are neglected.

CARP INDUSTRY AT KOSHIONONG

HAS FALLEN OFF CONSIDERABLY THIS YEAR.

TOTAL CATCH BUT 50 TONS

For This Winter—Three Private Individuals Are Busy Now with About 75 Fish Nets.

"Since the work of clearing Lake Koshionong of the spider family was commenced two years ago last fall, there have been between four and five hundred tons of carp, red-horse, mullet, buffalo, and suckers taken from its waters and there should have been a handsome profit for the work," said Deputy Game Warden Peter Drafiak this afternoon. "The hauls have fallen off considerably this winter. I presume 50 tons would take in the aggregate."

Pulled in Six Nets.

The game warden was at the lake yesterday and witnessed the pulling of 60 nets. The total haul was about 3,500 pounds. With the ice on the lake, five nets are being used and they prove very satisfactory for the work. The fishermen pay a license of $5 to the state besides 25 cents annually for each net. Whenever they pull their nets they are also required to have a game warden present and pay all expenses incurred by the extra trip. Mr. Drafiak says that there were twelve suckers in yesterday's catch and that with the temperature of the water at its present state they are much better eating than pike and bass caught hereabouts in the summer season.

Three Parties at Work.

C. K. Freer & Co. of Sandusky, Ohio, are one of the business in Wisconsin. It is alleged that they did not abide by the law. At any rate there was a row with the state authorities and the Freer people were given to understand that they would not be welcomed here again. Three private individuals are now engaged in the operations. They are: Henry Niedelken, a resident, and Ted Carroll and a man named Thompson, both of Illinois.

Feels Much Aggrieved.

Some time ago two farmer boys living near Hebron were "arrested" for shooting ducks out of a season by a fake game warden impersonating Mr. Drafiak who, after informing the guilty ones that the fine was $25, agreed to settle the case for half that sum and took the boys' money. Drafiak as a warden has no right to settle any such case. The incident has caused the local officers much trouble. The incident has also been duplicated at Milton Junction. If the identity of the parties is ever learned they will undoubtedly be given prison sentences.

LAUNCHES STRIPPED OF BRASS TRIMMINGS

Junk-Thieves Made a Big Raid at Boat-Houses Above Dam Over Sunday.

Junk thieves made a wholesale raid on the boat-houses near the upper dam sometime between Saturday morning and Monday noon, carrying away all the brass parts and trimmings they could get loose from the gasoline launches. The paddle-wheels and trimmings were taken from the large craft owned by the Rock County Mineral Co. and brass valued at $25 from the boat-house where the launch owned by Phyllis Wilbur and Mr. McCue is lodged for the winter. Four brass paddle-wheels, two of them concealed in the lockers, were taken from the "Idlewyle," owned by W. H. Merritt. The theft was not discovered until Monday noon when Alderman Merritt, changing to wander down by the boat-houses found the doors standing ajar. The officers have been quietly working on the case and it will fare ill with the guilty parties if they are captured.

Duty in Moral Conduct.

It seems to me that in every problem of moral conduct we confront, we really hold in trust an interest of all mankind. To solve that problem bravely and faithfully is to make life just so much easier for everybody, and to fail to do so is to make it just so much harder to solve by whoever has next to face it.—George W. INNING CLUB GAVE A BRILLIANT BALL

Many New Gowns Worn, Beautiful Decorations and Large Number of Visitors Were Features.

Credit is due the Inning Club management and thanks to Edward Amerpohl and Janesville Lodge No. 385 of the B. R. L. F. for one of the most brilliant balls given in this city for many years. All the magnificent decorations used by the Locomotive Firemen for their New Year's night dance remained intact in the Assembly hall last evening and provided a beautiful setting for the gay throng which began to gather there shortly after eight o'clock. As no other event of the kind this season, perhaps, have so many wonderful masterpieces of the modiste's art been given their initial appearance. Kneff & Hatch's orchestra of six played the initial dance number shortly before nine o'clock and from that time on until one o'clock morning was the scene of a moving panorama of animated faces and swirling color. Anon the illusion of some picture stolen from fairy-land was broken by the abrupt cessation of the music, the frantic hand-clapping of the dancers, and the oft-repeated announcement from the orchestra stand that the floor committee had instructed for "no encores." There was nothing fanciful or dreamy about that. Refreshments of a character determined upon with rare good judgment were served in an adjoining room. Nearly a hundred couples participated in the festivities including a number of out-of-town visitors. Among the latter were: R. F. Brainard, Miss Jean Weidensall, and Miss Mary Veach of Chicago, Willard Ackley of Beloit, Miss Childs of West Superior, Frank McNamara of Hayward, Charles McChesney of Delavan, Miss Hattie Finch of Cincinnati, Mr. and Mrs. Leahy of Milwaukee, Miss Kinsley of Michigan, and the Misses Charlotte and Alice Murphy of New Haven, Conn.

HOLD EXAMINATIONS ON SATURDAY NEXT

Local Civil Service Board Is To Give Its First Examination Soon.

Saturday morning in every assembly district of Wisconsin will be held examinations for the eligible list of the state civil service. The law requires that examinations be held simultaneously in each assembly district of the state and there are 100 of these districts. The civil service commission has received applications for the various branches of the service, which, including the present employees who number several hundred, and who will take the non-competitive examinations, will make approximately 1,000 to take the tests. The largest classes will be in Madison and at the cities where are located the several state charitable and penal institutions, the important employees which are required to take the examinations. The commission is composed of Dr. Samuel E. Sparling, a professor in the faculty of the state university, Otto Gaffron of Plymouth and T. J. Cunningham of Chippewa Falls. The merit was provided for by a law passed by the last legislature. The examiners in Rock county are: as follows: Janesville—John Arbutnot, M. P. Richardson and H. J. Cunningham; Evansville—A. H. Sholtz, L. Van Wart and R. M. Richmond; Beloit—John C. Pierson, Marshall E. Lothrop and Donald Van Wart.

Devonshire: Superstitious.

Superstitious still rife in Devonshire are that it is unlucky to put the right foot on first, that the first foot to cross a threshold in the new year must be that of a man, that ill luck follows the spilling of salt on the tablecloth and the crossing of table-linens. These are only a few of many similar minor beliefs.

Michigan Farmer Murders Son,

AX AND SHOTGUN HIS WEAPONS

Disappointed Over Harvest in New Location, Man Becomes Despondent and Turns Home Into a Shambles
During Insane Fit of Rage.

Rochester, Mich., Jan. 3.—Alarmed by the deserted appearance of the farmhouse of Clarence A. Barnum, who recently located near here, neighbors broke into the house Tuesday and found Barnum, his wife, his daughter Louise, aged 23, and his son Chester, aged 16, all lying dead. The wife and the son and daughter had apparently been murdered with an ax. A single-barreled shotgun lying near his corpse and the fact that his head was almost entirely blown off showed how Farmer Barnum had met his end.

Mrs. Barnum's body lay in the woodshed. It appeared that she had been able to resist the murderer for a brief time, or at any rate had succeeded in eluding him long enough to reach the shed. But here she was struck down and met the same fate that had befallen her son and daughter.

Harvest Not Ample.
Barnum sold a farm near Homer, Mich., only a few months ago and located here late in the season. It is said the harvest in his new home did not meet his expectations and that he had become despondent. This was made very evident in a letter he had written to a brother in Waterloo, N. Y. Two other sons and a daughter were away from home when the tragedy occurred.

William Barnum is editor of the College News Letter, an official publication of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor. John Barnum lives at Coldwater, Mich. The surviving daughter, Mary Barnum, resides at Albion, Mich.

Struggle for Life.
The appearance of the house indicated the family had just finished breakfast when the insane and murderous frenzy of the father broke out. Evidently there had been a terrible struggle as the mother and children battled for their lives. The dining-room was all bespattered with blood, even the ceiling. Under the dining-room table lay the father's body, a gun across his knee. Apparently he had taken the muzzle into his mouth before pulling the trigger. Three extra cartridges stood on the sideboard, as if in readiness to overtake any member of the family who might succeed in escaping the murderous ax.

Mutilated With Ax.
There was blood on the handle of the ax, but the blade had been washed. In the dining-room where the body of the father was found lay also that of the daughter. The son's corpse was in the kitchen. It is thought that the boy was the first attacked, that the mother was killed in the woodshed next, and that the father turned last to the daughter imprisoned in the dining-room where the disturbance had apparently begun. The wife and son and daughter all had their heads terribly cut and crushed with the ax.

Wife and Children to Get Income,
Which Goes to Charity at Their Death.

New York, Jan. 3.—Practically all of the estate of the late Charles T. Yerkes, estimated at between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000, ultimately will go to charity, though the traction magnate's wife and children are provided for so well that all are satisfied, and it is declared there will be no contest. They are to get the income on the greater part of the estate during their lives, and the bequests, including a great hospital in New York and the Yerkes Art Gallery, about which so much has been printed, are not to take effect until after Mrs. Yerkes' death, unless she voluntarily hastens matters.

The value of the property which, after a lapse of a number of years, will go to form the endowment fund for the hospital, is said to be between $10,000,000 and $15,000,000.

The University of Chicago is to profit immediately to the extent of $100,000; the income from which is to be set aside for the maintenance of the Yerkes observatory at Williams Bay, Wis., which was given to the university by Mr. Yerkes before he left Chicago.

QUEER TELEPHONE USES.

Norwegian Fishermen Drop Lines
Into the Sea to Get Trace of the Fish.

Abundance of amusing as well as statistical proof of the approach of such an era of universal telephony as is implied in 20 per cent. development is not hard to find. Newspapers give publicity to all sorts of ingenious schemes for utilizing Mr. Bell's invention, in heretofore unheard-of ways. The instrument, says F. W. Coburn, in Atlantic, has come to be of assistance in about all the vocations and avocations of the everyday world. Not only has it annihilated time and space on the superficial earth, but the Norwegian fishermen drop into the ocean depth a line with telephonic attachment by which the swish of the approaching herring, codfish or mackerel is communicated to the anxious listeners above. In some of the most delicate operations of hospital surgery the telephone proves helpful, and in ordinary medical practice the country mother raises the baby to the transmitter in order that the physician in the village may determine whether or not the cough is croupy. Concerts have been transmitted more or less successfully over the wires, and Sunday morning preaching effectively conveyed. After a recent revival, in which scores of eager "seekers" had put in their requests for prayers, the evangelist handed his secretary a list of names with their telephone numbers and with the instruction: "Just call up each one of these sisters and brothers to-morrow morning and ask them how it goes with their souls. Tell them to keep on with their prayers and inform them that I am praying for them right along."

NOT THE BOSS AFTER ALL

Story That Illustrates a Condition
Quite Common in Matrimonial Alliances.

Once upon a time a youth, who had commenced to navigate the sea of matrimony, went to his father and said: "Father, who should be boss, I or my wife?"

Then the old man smiled and said: "Here are 100 chickens and a team of horses. Hitch up the horses, load the chickens into the wagon and wherever you can find a man and his wife dwelling, stop and make inquiry as to who is the boss. Wherever you find a woman running things leave a chicken. If you come to a place where the man is in control, give him one of the horses."

After 79 chickens had been disposed of he came to a house and made the usual inquiry, says the San Francisco Chronicle.

"I'm the boss of this ranch," said the man.

"Got to show me."

So the wife was called, and she affirmed her husband's assertion.

"Take whichever horse you want," was the boy's reply.

So the husband said: "I'll take the bay." But the wife didn't like the bay horse, and she called her husband aside and talked to him. He returned and said: "I believe I'll take the gray horse."

"Not much," said Missouri. "You'll take a chicken."

LOOSE BUSINESS MORALS.

Grocer's Clerk Who Was Too Untruthful to Hold His Position.

An Arctic explorer was praising the late William Zeigler, relates the New York Tribune.

"He was a man of the alertest wit," the explorer said. "I never saw his equal in the hitting off of a person's character with an apposite story. Once I remember, he was describing a flour manufacturer of loose business morals."

"Mr. Zeigler said this manufacturer was like a certain grocer who called his clerk up before him one day and said:

"That lady who just went out—didn't I hear her ask you for fresh laid eggs?"

"Yes, sir," the clerk answered.

"And you said we hadn't any?"

"Yes, sir; that is correct."

"The grocer, purple with rage, yelled:

"Didn't you see me lay those eggs myself on the counter not ten minutes ago? You are discharged, you mendacious scoundrel; and see that you don't look to me for a reference, either."

Roosters Die from Drink.
Two prize old roosters drank themselves to death up in Allentown, Pa. They were really roosters of the Leghorn variety. They were on exhibition at a chicken show and their owner, to freshen them up a bit, gave them colchicum wine from the effects of which both died. They were valued at $500.

Wants Everybody to Sing.
The Rev. A. Lloyd of St. Ambrose's, Birmingham, believes that singing in church is left too much to the choir, the members of which he now proposes to distribute among the congregation, where their example will encourage those sitting near.

Reading Through Salt.

Electric Power Testimonial.

Dec. 7, 1905.

Messrs. Janesville Electric Co.,
Gentlemen:—

We wish to express our pleasure for the model installation you have made for us of electric motors and heating devices. We have a 5 and a 2 1/2 H. P. motor driving separate lines of sewing machine shafting, a 1/2 H. P. motor on a cloth cutting machine and a 1-8 H. P. motor on automatic bobbin winder.

Besides this there is a 3 H. P. motor on our elevator and some small motors on fans and ventilators.

We feel there is a large saving in power in doing away with shutting, beside lessening the number of belts around the factory. We also use a 20 and a 6 pound iron for pressing in our factory. These we have proved by test to be the cheapest and most efficient manner of pressing.

Yours truly,

JANESVILLE CLOTHING CO.
